Semmler Papers Sponsor Holiday-In-The-Sun Tour

The Golden Triangle Newspapers, in conjunction with Trans World Airlines and Joliet Travel and Tours, is sponsoring a "Holiday in the Sun" in three countries of southern Europe and North Africa.

Leaving Chicago March 3, the tour will include Spain, Portugal and Tangiers. The group will return March 19.

The round trip by TWA jet airliner, plus first-class accommodations in Europe and Africa will cost the tourist $628.28 for the 16 days, from Chicago. This includes meals, hotels and transportation.

Arrangements are being handled by Joliet Travel and Tours, 20 E. Clinton, Joliet.

First stop is the Spanish capital of Madrid, a majestic city of broad thoroughfares and stately buildings situated on a plain in almost the exact center of the country. Madrid is virtually the home of bullfighting and, unlike Lisbon, the bull is always destroyed in a dramatic encounter involving man and beast.

Easily the top-flight attraction of Madrid is the world-famous Prado Museum, which, like the Louvre in Paris, houses some of the artistic masterpieces of El Greco, Goya, Velasquez and Murillo. The Royal Palace, University City and El Retiro Park are other engrossing sights.

GRANADA

The next stop is the city of Granada, one of the high spots of the tour. The famous Alhambra stands out for most visitors as a treasured memory. Others may prefer visiting the Generalife, the Arabian Towers, or the Cathedral and the Royal Chapel.

Crossing the Strait of Gibraltar by ferry, the tour enters another world in Tangier. All thoughts of winter will vanish, on a stroll thru the Casbah, the ancient Palace of the Sultan and the Bazaars. In Tangier, the city that thru the centuries has kept the real Arabian atmosphere, there are amazing contrasts of modern architecture and the exotic Arabian quarters and markets.

The last stop on the tour will be Lisbon, capital of Portugal, which lies along the banks of the River Tanguis and is cradled amid seven hills, like Rome. Here the tourist will find a gentle, warm-hearted people living in a land of fiestas, bull fights--the bull is never killed--and fados or somber fold songs.

Striking out from Tossio

Square, the center of the city, and moving along the wide tree-lined Avenida da Liberdade, the visitor will want to see the Jeronimos Monastery and Church, where many of the country's kings and queens are buried, and the Tower of Belem, which marks the return of the Explorer Vasco da Gama from his expedition to India in the 15th century. Other points of interest are the Old Moorish quarter, the Museum of Coaches and the beautiful Park Edward VII with its unique greenhouse growing tropical plants.

More information about this special tour will appear in next weeks issue.

Come March And Frankfort 1st Grade Will Have Room

The greatest portion of the Frankfort grade school board meeting Monday night was devoted to Architect William Schmiedmannel as he discussed the progress of the new addition to the school.

Schmiedmannel told the board that they were behind on the brick work, but expect to catch up soon. He said the roof should be on by early December and the structure closed in by mid-December.

He said that the first grade should be back in the school by March. The class is presently convening at St. Peter's church, due to lack of space in the portion of the school.

Principal LeRoy Wright presented preliminary plans to the board to accept the present third grade room as a science room. This room could be equipped with the school being reimbursed 47 per cent of the cost by the NDEA. This is a program enabling schools to encourage growth of their science rooms and labs because a percentage of the cost is underwritten by the association.

A request was submitted to the board to use the gymnasium for a group of men who wish to play volleyball. This was granted. Any man in the community can join the group. The date for practices to begin will be announced later.

William George, a teacher at the school, is attending an eight week night workshop, it was announced.

Remainder of the evening was spent okaying routine bills and payroll and hearing monthly reports. All board members were present.

Aux. Police Are Target Of Egg Hurlers

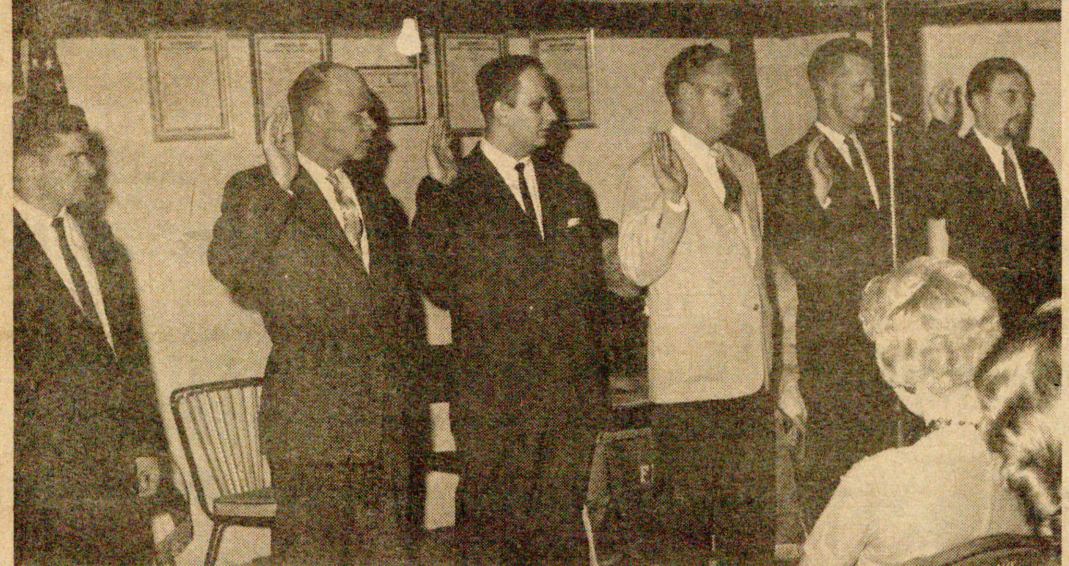

What started out as a seemingly harmless Halloween prank could have ended in a fatality Tuesday night when a Will County Auxiliary police car was pelted with eggs as it was traveling west on Route 30.

The police car was patrolling the Lincoln Estates area when another car containing four high school juniors passed the squad. The youths hurled eggs at the squad, splattering the windshield and obscuring the officers' vision.

After giving chase on Route 30 and then north on Route 45 to the Rock Island railroad tracks, reaching speeds of 95 miles per hour, the youths were curbed.

The boys, two of them from Lincoln Estates and two from Mokena, still had 15 dozen eggs in the car when they were apprehended.

AMVETS AND AUXILIARY of Mokena install officers. The ceremonies took place last Saturday night in the home of Wilbur Schalk. In the men's group (l to r) are: John Reaney, provost marshal; Lee Holman, judge advocate; Daniel Kurber, finance officer; Mr. Schalk, public relations chairman; Edward Lehman, senior vice commander and Kenneth Miller, commander. Leonard Linstrom, adjutant was ill and

Lions To Open Cake Sale Monday

The Mokena Lions club will again sell fruit cakes as a means to raise funds to aid in its various community and charitable activities and members are now polishing up their sales techniques preparatory to starting their annual canvass.

The Lions will begin their fruit cake sale the evening of November 13. The members are divided into teams and the teams have divided the community into sections and each section is broken up into blocks.

"We are planning a door to door campaign," explained the general chairman, Capt. George Rumbley, chaplain of the NIKE command at Orland Park, "and hope to be able to wind it up within a week. The cakes are good, the cause is good; that should be a winning combination."

Ted Massey Will Address Joliet Lions

Ted A. Massey of Frankfort, Lions district 1-B governor, will be the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Joliet Lions club today, Thursday, at the Hotel Louis Joliet.

He will talk on "Lionism and Its Organizational Structure." This is his official visit to the club. Following the meeting, Massey will meet with members of the club's board of directors.

Two Mokenans Suffer Severe Injuries When Cars Collide

Two Mokena residents were hospitalized early Sunday morning as a result of a two-car collision at 195th street and Wolf road.

The injured are: Mrs. Marion Gorman, 35, 191st, and Wolf rd., a passenger in a car driven by her husband, George, and the other is Charles Hostert, 39, of 15 W. 195th street, an aviation mechanic foreman and former member of the Mokena Village board.

According to the report of state police Hostert, traveling north on Wolf road, was preparing to run west on 195th street, when the rear end of his car was struck by the Gorman auto.

The Hostert car was swung around by the impact and came to rest facing south while the Gorman vehicle finally stopped across the highway and facing the steps of the St. Mary Social Center.

Mrs. Gorman's head went thru the windshield and she was then hurled back and under the dash and rescuers had difficulty in getting her out.

She was cut about the face, head and neck and has a possible skull fracture. Mrs. Gorman was in surgery five hours and 109 stitches were required to close the cuts.

Twelve stitches were necessary to close the gash in Hostert's scalp. He was thrown back by the force of the impact and his head struck some part of the interior of the car.

Hostert had thought he would be released but apparently shock set in and he was unable to leave the hospital.

The injured were brought to the hospital in the Baskerville ambulance.

The village hall for New Lenox, possibly on or near the site of the sewage disposal plant, was discussed by the village board at its regular meeting on Wednesday night of last week.

It was suggested that the village lot, south of the fire station, might be disposed of and the money be placed in a building fund.

Mayor Stanley Gilmore appointed Trustees Evans Drotts and Eugene McGovney as a committee to ascertain if there was a market for the village property.

The village now uses the fire engine house for its meetings but board members believe that with the growing population and the increased demands for service that it was time to consider having its own quarters.

Frankfort and Orland Park now have clerks on duty daily to take care of municipal business and New Lenox officials believe the time is not too far distant when public demands will necessitate adoption of a similar program there.

So far nothing definite has been agreed upon.

An amended zoning ordinance which has been approved by the zoning board of appeals is expected to be adopted by the board when it meets next. The board recessed Nov. 1 to meet again Nov. 15.

Because of the increased business to be brought before the board of late it has been recessing after the regular meeting for a two-week interval. Thus the board is holding two meetings a month and it is possible it may go on a schedule of two regular sessions.

Among the things for discussion at future board meetings is a program to round out the present sanitary sewer system. The basic system is complete but there are refinements that could be undertaken, it was said, when income permits.

One of the things that may be done is to make an addition to the disposal plant if the community continues to grow beyond the rate expected and also to add more equipment.

There are now approximately 600 sewer users and the number is expected to increase. There are still householders who have not made connections and the board is beginning to press for compliance with the ordinance which bans septic tanks and makes connection with the sewer mandatory.

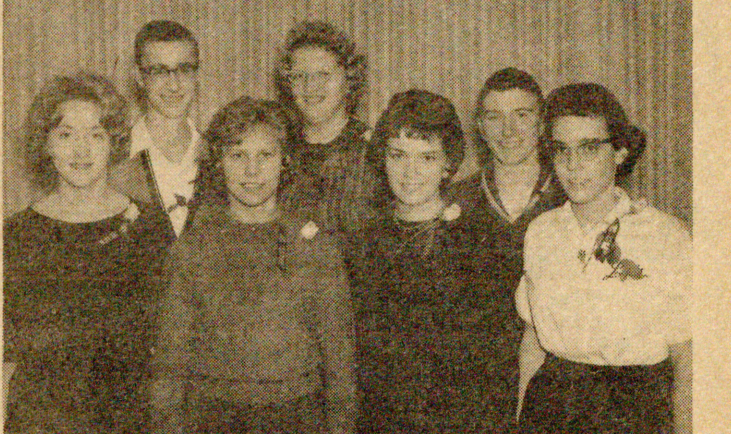

The Rock Island railroad has offered to give the village two car loads of crushed stone to build a parking lot west of Cedar road and north of the station. Trustee Gene Hunt, head of streets, asked that a letter of appreciation be sent to George R. Voss, Rock Island superintendent, and ascertain if action could be deferred until spring. This is not the time of year for building a parking area, Hunt pointed out.

N. Lenox Board Talk Of Building Municipal Hall

FOUR HEADS are better than one any day, is the way a professional executioner looks at such things and the Lord High Executioner employed by The Mikado was forever getting orders to display his skill and technique but something always intervened. This is a scene from the light opera by Gilbert and Sullivan, "The Mikado." The young man with wicked looking snickersees is Richard Osimus, as the Lord High Executioner. The young man with the fan is Peter Burns, cast as the Mikado's son, and the girls are the Three Little Japanese Maid, (l to r) Judy Kuchenbecker, Sandra Gregory and Sandra Kooyenga. The vocal music department at Lincoln-Way is staging "The Mikado" in the school auditorium tomorrow and Saturday nights. Tickets are available at the door. Curtain time is 8 o'clock.

HALLOWEEN PARADERS at Mokena had a lot of fun and a lot of treats. The photographer who had been dodging witches and goblins all evening managed to get this picture at the Mokena fire station before some wizard or goblin slipped in and put a thumb over the lens.

ANN RUTLEDGE school had a Halloween party that was marked by a wide variety of costumes as this picture reveals. What with the masks and all the photographer didn't attempt to identify members of the group. To tell the truth he is allergic to witches and kindred spirits so he got away as fast as he could.

CHANGES BUS STOP

The club toured a portion of the arsenal as a part of the continuing Ordnance Ammunition Command-Joliet Arsenal familiarization program under which civic clubs of the area have been visiting the installation.

"We welcome this opportunity to let the people of this area have a closeup view of some of our activities," said Col. Elmer W. Grubbs, commander of the OAC.

Now you can heat that extra room economically with GAS!

NEW gas room-heaters are the ideal solution for providing cozy warmth in add-on living areas. Recreation rooms, attics, porches, or breezeways can be as comfortable as the rest of the house with a gas room-heater on the job.

Compact and good looking, these efficient units can be readily installed to give you controlled heat where you need it—when you need it. They require no flue or chimney. Air for combustion is drawn from the outdoors, and then safely vented out again. Thus, no room oxygen is consumed.

No other method of individual room heating offers so much—comfort, convenience, dependability, plus typical gas economy!

Farm And City Week

November 17-23 will mark the seventh annual observance of Farm-City Week--an observance which is held thruout this country and Canada, and has been a rousing success by any standard. Last year, for instance, more than 10,000 communities in the two countries participated. This year the number may be still larger.

The purpose of Farm-City Week is stated in these words: "To bring about better understanding between rural and urban peoples; to increase the knowledge and appreciation of each for the American (Canadian) way of life; and to recognize that Thanksgiving Day symbolizes America's awareness of, and gratefulness for the bounty of nature and the strength of her man-made institutions."

On the national level, a number of what are known as "high visibility" projects will be staged. These will bring the week's theme home through the press, broadcasts, magazines and so on. For instance, one year a reenactment of the first Thanksgiving dinner was held at Plymouth, Massachusetts, followed immediately by a modern Thanksgiving dinner showing the bounty of America's farms, ranches and fisheries. This event received wide publicity. This year a new and colorful series of dramatizations of the Farm-City Week idea will take place throughout the country, consisting of pilgrimages by youngsters to selected historical sites and museums. The young fry will be attired in appropriate costumes, and will arrive at their destinations in vehicles ranging from oxcarts to 1961 cars.

At the same time, observances will be primarily local, rather than national, in character. The heavy emphasis, for the best of reasons, is on the grassroots. The activities make a long list, and cover a wide range. Farms will be toured by businessmen, and rural residents will tour factories. There will be joint tours of agricultural areas, processing plants and cities. Banquets and luncheons will be held in honor of farmers and rural youth. New farming techniques will be demonstrated before groups of farmers and business people. School programs will include tableaux picturing "a day in the life of a farm." City people will actually spend a day on a farm, while country people spend a day in the city. Church services will be devoted to the farm-city interdependence theme. Newspaper columns, editorial pages, display advertising and radio and TV broadcasts will be devoted to the Week and its significance.

So it goes. In the words of President Chris L. Christensen of the National 4-H Service Committee, "Farm-City Week is an activity which has caught the imagination of farm, business, governmental and lay leaders alike. The necessity of closing the breach in understanding between the rural and urban segments of the American economy is a very real one. Farm-City Week has taken the lead..." And President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation says: "Farmer-Businessmen meetings and conferences, the working together on various projects and activities--all these help to bring about a better understanding of our mutual obligations in maintaining our private competitive enterprise system and the American way of life."

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

Saturday is Armistice Day. Oh sure, it is listed now as Veteran's Day but for those who were somewhere in France on November 11, 1918, it's Armistice Day.

What's the difference, someone asks, Armistice Day, Veterans Day, or the Day the Silence Was Too Loud? They may be right--what's the difference?

Well, one can argue, there is this difference. To the people in World War I, Americans, French, British, Belgians or Germans it was their day... a day they experienced and not one handed down to them by history thru and almanac.

Peace, and rumors of peace has supplanted war, and rumors of war, but the people most directly effected heard so much talk of peace and yet saw no evidence of it that the actual armistice that began at 11 a.m. on the 11th day of the 11th month was really a surprise.

It was one of those when-I-see-it-I'll-believe-it things. And after a time one actually did see it... one saw men standing up in full view or strolling back and forth like city dwellers taking a breath of spring air after having been shut up in stuffy quarters all winter... Anyone who saw that and also saw that such disregard of cover brought no retribution in the form of machinegun chatter or any other kind of gunfire, had a choice of three conclusions... the men in view were crazy, he was crazy or that armistice business he'd heard about was really on the level and not just a lot of latrine gossip...

The guy next to him could see those birds standing up too so he figured he wasn't seeing things and therefore a little off the nob... Then he saw other fellows popping into view and yelling and the Germans were doing it too... Everybody couldn't be going crazy at the same time... also they must have at the beginning or the war wouldn't have started... so-o-o, there it was, it had to be THE ARMISTICE!

But even if he hadn't seen he would have known that a great change had taken place in the world that he had come to accept... it was the sudden silence... he had heard the guns so long that now they were mute the silence was so loud it hurt the ears.

Some of the more pessimistic thought it might be a trick... The Reds have been working it for years now in different parts of the world... and that the Germans would start shooting again after establishing new lines and getting their supplies built up but most everyone agreed that the fighting was finished... and it was as far as the main war was concerned...

Of course, there were side wars that started up in out-of-way places... Russia was an out-of-way place then... but compared to the big one just ending they were looked upon as strictly minor league, Class D or E...

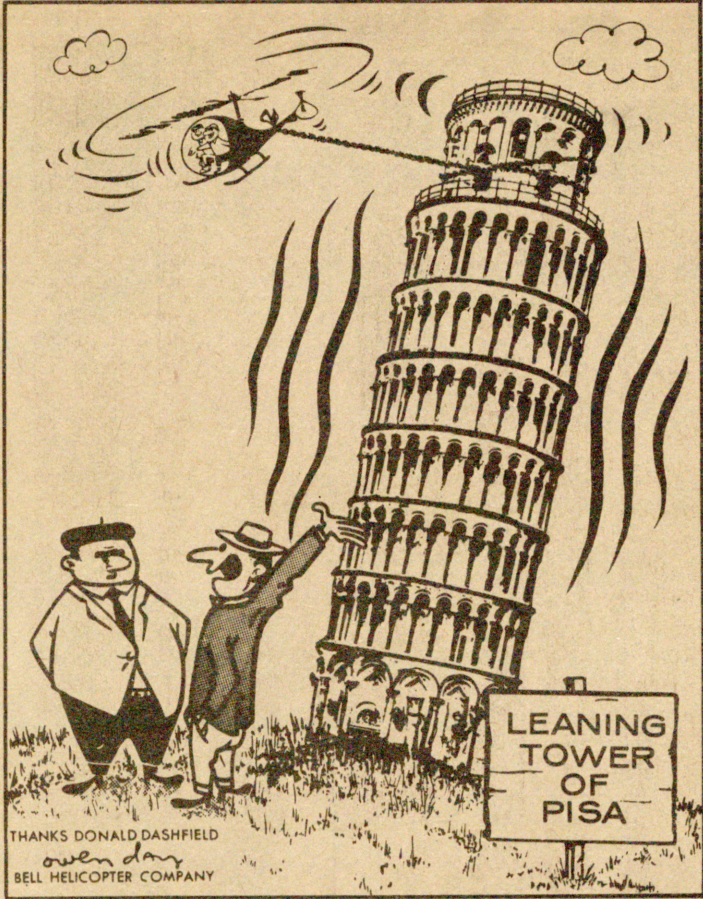

There were some who believed that we stopped too soon that the war should have been carried into Germany and that country thoroughly subdued... Had that course been followed Hitler might have gone back to painting and paper hanging... but that is guesswork... still one wonders sometimes what might have happened if it had been a finish fight.

And that, of course, poses a question--when is a fight really finished?

Everyone knows now the fight wasn't finished then but it stopped for a time and the men who had been doing the fighting went back to their homelands.

And they took The Armistice with them. When the 11th of November rolled around the World War I veterans found time to observe it. It wasn't really a holiday. Most communities had parades in which the veterans marched and at 11 o'clock the lines halted, faced to the east and stood at attention while the Music sounded Taps for those who had died in the conflict.

'COPTER CARTOON by owen day

"Some wise guy trying to change history books!"

Veterans organizations held open house on this day and those attending reminisced and remembered as veterans will, and for each one the day meant something special, because each one had experienced something that day that was personal and solely his own, and became firmly fixed in his memory.

It was not until 1926 that Armistice day became a legal holiday to commemorate the ending of World War I. On June 1, 1954, the name was changed to Veterans day to honor all men and women who have served the United States in war time.

No doubt the people who carried the American Revolution thru to a successful termination had an interest in the Fourth of July that was something special. They had made the day.

No doubt the observance of Memorial Day had a greater significance to the men who fought in that conflict than for succeeding generations. They had made the day.

And so for the men and women who were participants in the First World War, November 11, is Armistice Day... a day of memories that are their own... for they had made the day.

THE PASTORS DESK

By THE REV. ROBERT H. KING (Pastor Mokena Methodist Church)

"THE RELIGIOUS GAME" Many adults are like children in their attitude toward religion. They are continually searching for that "good feeling." They are not concerned with the teachings of Christ or with the application of His teachings to the problems of human need. They are only interested in being entertained. To them religion is only a game.

A man's religion, however, forms the framework of his character. The person who plays at his religion has little stability in his life. He is like the character in the play "My Fair Lady" who sings:

"The Lord above gave man an arm of iron

To do his job and never shirk; The Lord above gave man an arm of iron,

But, with a little bit of luck, Someone else will do the bloomin' work."

This is the man who plays at religion - a man who expects others to undertake his responsibilities.

What is the man like who makes religion a game? There are many different patterns.

1) There is the individual who looks out the window on a Sunday morning, sees a cloud on the horizon and says, "It looks like rain today. I had better not attend church today."

2) There is the person who threatens to leave one church and join another congregation each time the preacher displeases him; or when he becomes provoked with someone in the church fellowship; or when his will does not prevail.

3) There is the mother who brings the child to Church School with her hair in curlers and still wrapped in a house coat. There is the father who drives the child to church who has not taken time to shave or to comb his hair. Religion to these "adults" is a game, because they emphatically indicate to the child that to them religion is unimportant for an adult. It is suited only for children. The disrespect they show the Church and Christ unconsciously affect. The child determines the future of his faith.

4) There is the individual who refuses to permit Christianity to prod their conscience or to be a call to service. To them Christianity has no right to speak on the problems of right or wrong or good and evil.

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The last several weeks has seen an increase in the number of individual stocks trades, with only a slight increase in total day to day trading volume.

Specialty items such as the discount-stores have been receiving an increasing amount of attention with rising prices. Their interim earnings reports show considerable sales increases and larger net profits than usual with department stores. As to market activity, the leaders are Korvette, Interstate Department Stores; Vornade, Holly Stores, and White Stores. There are a few others which have not been as active in past few weeks.

For weeks, the market analysts have been predicting an increase in stock market activity reflecting increased profits during last half of 1961. The profits did not increase at the rate predicted. This has now been blamed on the unsettling influence of labor troubles.

Some students of market activity expect a fair increase in market activity within a short time and an increase which will reach new highs by the end of 1962.

The final quarter of 1961 is expected to show a business profit rate at least as great as the previous peak - 1959. U. S. News & World Report anticipates a profit picture by the final quarter of 1962 which is by far an all time peak - $32 billion.

The magazines article on what to expect in profit possibility for the balance of this year and 1962, makes very pleasant reading.

A list of prominent firms are shown as announcing sales and profits increases in the third quarter with better results expected in 1962. A few of these are: Scott Paper, Bell & Howell, I.B.M., Continental Can, DuPont, General Tire, American Machine & Foundry, Jones & Laughlin, etc.

The effect of defense spending is starting to effect sales and profits to a noticeable degree.

The steel industry is now starting to show the expected earnings increases. They were slow to show profits increases due to auto slow down. Some market commentators were especially critical of lack of activity of the steels. Most of steels are reporting better sales and profits. As with the cyclical industries, steel can be expected to show larger increases once they exceed their break-even point in sales. The expected fall pickup in auto sales, will have a favorable effect on steel and most business activity as will the expected retail trade seasonal spending.

Investment services are pointing to increased auto sales; residential building starts at better than 20 per cent over rate for last year; industrial building increasing fast; and electricity output at an all time peak. A goodly number of investment letters are advising that there is usually market strength at this time of year and more

Bad Weather Postpones Arbury Halloween Party

MRS. EDWARD HOVI

Tel. Mokena 5740

Mother Nature seemingly has a grudge against the Arbury Hills Civic association. The car wash project some weeks ago was rained out.

The Halloween party for the children had to be called off because of inclement weather. Approximately 80 children came for the festivities. Each child received a package of "treats".

Those who purchased merchandise at the recently held Toy Fair presented by the Arbury Hills Kindergarten organization are being asked to pick up the items. The kindergarten building at 1941 S. Beechnut Dr., will be open on Saturday, Nov. 18, from 2 to 5 p.m. All merchandise must be picked up at this time.

The kindergarten children were treated to a Halloween party Tuesday.

There were also Halloween parties held at all the other local schools Tuesday.

The Bingo club met at the home of Mrs. Walter Plumly, 1933 S. Oak St., Thursday, Nov. 2. There were 16 members present. The hostesses prize was won by Mrs. Charles Hecht, 9524 W. Elm Ave. It has not been decided whether to have a meeting or a night out for the month of December.

There was a plastics demonstration held at the home of Mrs. Will Way of 9522 W. Hickory St. on Wednesday, Nov. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Cullum and their baby girl, Karen, of 9525 W. Elm Ave. journeyed to Marengo, Iowa, for the weekend to visit Karen's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cullum.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rator of 9449 W. Birch St. had an adult Halloween party on Saturday, Oct. 28. The guests came in costume. There were prizes given for the best costume for a woman and one for the best costume for a man.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mangano of 9451 W. Hickory St. also held an adult Halloween party on the same evening. The costume party was enlivened by a scavenger hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gunty of 9431 W. Elm Ave. were also hosts at a costume Halloween party on Oct. 28. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Austin Brant, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tanis, Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. William O'Neill, and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Miller.

Marie Ann Hovi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hovi, of 9448 W. Hickory St., was installed as a member of the Junior auxiliary of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, a patriotic organization. The investiture took place at a meeting of the group held Saturday, Nov. 4.

Russel Dickerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dickerson of 9528 W. Hickory St. is suffering from the mumps.

Mrs. Lloyd Klein, 9418 W. Willow Lane, Girl Scout leader of the Summit Hill Girl Scout troop, has a co-leader, Mrs. Hyman Kronick, 9437 W. Pine St. She also has the assistance of Mrs. Earl Scott, 9412 W. Birch St. as one of the troop committee mothers. Mrs. Klein is also in need of two more mothers to act as troop committee mothers. Anyone willing to help out, may contact Mrs. Klein at Mokena 5846.

Orland Park Couple Recites Wedding Vows At Morning Mass In St. Michael Church

Miss Sharon Doogan, daughter of Mrs. Marie Doogan, 131st and 108th Sts., Orland Park, and the late Raymond Doogan, became the bride of Thomas Holz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holz, 167th St. near Route 45, Orland Park, on Oct. 7 at a morning nuptial mass in St. Michael's church, Orland Park.

Floral arrangements decorated the church as the bride's uncle, Lester Doogan, of Blue Island, escorted her to the altar. She wore a gown fashioned of dull satin, with appliques outlined in sequins and seed pearls. The gown was designed and made by the bride's mother. It had a 48 inch train. Her only jewelry was pearl earrings and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis.

Miss Nora Holz, maid of honor, wore a taffeta floor length gown, dark green in color. Three bridesmaids, Miss Margie Kimmel of Milford, Miss Donna Martin of Orland Park and Miss Mary Holz of Orland Park, wore light green floor length taffeta gowns. They had fur hats and heart-shaped fur mitts on which mittens were attached.

Eunice Kimmel of Milford was the flower girl. She was dressed in an identical fashion to the bridesmaids and carried a basket of mums. Scott E. Holz, son of Edward Holz, was the ring bearer. He was attired in a tuxedo.

Norbe Holz served as best man with Orville Holz Jr., Edward Setzke, Don Knope and Raymond Doogan as ushers.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Doogan, chose a powder blue organza over taffeta gown with a lace tunic. Her hat and shoes were matching in color and she wore ivory accessories. Mrs. Holz wore a grey lace dress over pink with pink and black accessories.

Robert Doogan, grandfather, attended the reception but Mrs. Nora Pekin, grandmother of the bridegroom, was unable to attend due to ill health.

A wedding breakfast was served at Silver Lake Country Club and a reception for 250 persons was held that night in Pickerville at Goodings Grove. A hot buffet was served.

The couple went to Niagara Falls and is now at home in Villa Park. The new Mrs. Holz is employed as a bookkeeper at the Orland Park bank. Mr. Holz is engaged in cement construction in Villa Park and with the Holz and Latoria firm.

Homer Good Luck Camp To Meet At Homer

BY ELIZABETH ANDERSON

The Good Luck Camp of Royal Neighbors will meet at Homer Church social rooms Thursday afternoon, Nov. 16. The hostesses will be Mesdames Burnette Donahue, Dorothy Lister, Shirley Lemon and Katherine Wies. The usual business session and social hour will be enjoyed.

Mrs. Eleanor Foster of 145th Place, Homer, was the victim of an unusual accident last week when she was run over by her own car in her driveway. The car started to roll as she walked behind it, knocking her to the ground and fracturing several ribs. She was taken to Silver Cross Hospital by the North-west Homer Fire Dept. ambulance.

Derwin Cleveland, 143rd St., suffered a broken ankle playing football last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Ralph Reiter, who sustained serious back injuries and broken ribs in an auto collision at Gouger and E. Division Sts. Tuesday night, will be hospitalized at Silver Cross for some time. X-rays were to be taken on Saturday to determine whether the vertebrae were broken or cracked. Richard Reiter was the most seriously injured in the accident. Donald Zolecki, a passenger in the Reiter car, was put in traction Friday for a broken pelvis and an injured hip. Kathleen and Ralph Jr. were expected to go home on Saturday, and the youngest girl, Karen, was taken home Friday.

Mrs. Brockway of Plainfield, who was a passenger in the other car, suffered severe face and leg injuries. She also is at Silver Cross.

Mrs. Max Phillips came from California to help care for her daughter, Mrs. Reiter, and her grandchildren.

"Ted" Grimm went to Chicago Thursday for consultation with several bone specialists. He came home the same day and expects to return for surgery in about two weeks.

The Youth group of Homer church who canvassed Homer twp. in the UNICEF drive, wish to thank everyone for the generous way in which they responded to their call. More than $100 was collected for the benefit of needy children in other lands. The young people enjoyed a Halloween party at the church on Friday evening before the drive. Sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bethell. They were unable to get to every house.

Seventy-five women braved the weather on Friday morning to attend the World Community Day program of the United Church Women at Homer church. A delightful brunch and social hour preceded the program, the highlight of which was an entertaining and enlightening talk by Mrs. Ellis Lee Graves, a returned missionary from Brazil. Mrs. William Goodale Jr. was the soloist. Chairman for the day was Mrs. John Hollister; her co-chairman was Mrs. Chas. Klosterman of Fairmont.

The brunch was served from a linen covered table decorated in autumn colors, with silver tea and coffee services and presided over by Mrs. H. M. Finley of Lockport and Mrs. William Champoux of here.

Mrs. Wrey White and Mrs. Merritt J. Cagwin were the refreshment committee and they were assisted by Mrs. Robert Shepherd, Sr., Mrs. Otto Moravec and others. Mrs. Eliz. White and Mrs. Don Asfrel were in charge of a well-populated nursery.

The School Club of Homer

Consolidated School will sponsor a Style Show at the school on Friday evening, Nov. 17, at 8 o'clock. Clothing will be furnished by Montgomery Ward's store from Joliet and modeled by club members. Mrs. Emma Lorenc of Joliet will be the commentator. Tickets may be obtained from club members, or by calling Mrs. Willard Cagwin, TE 8-4648. There will be other entertainment numbers and refreshments will be served.

Officers of the Barner Cemetery Association held a meeting in the home of their secretary, Mrs. Iola Storm, Thursday evening. Their wives were guests and a social hour was enjoyed.

Ronald R. Ziesemer has recently received his diploma from DeVry Technical Institute, Chicago, giving him an associate degree in applied science. He successfully completed a 36-week training course in controls for automation. Ronnie and his wife have recently set up housekeeping in the George Welter apartment, on Bell Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Aspel spent the weekend at Wyand with her mother, who is seriously ill.

Please excuse the error, The hostesses at the King's Daughter's meeting last Thursday evening, Oct. 28. Guests were Mrs. Stanley Cox and Mrs. John Hollister—not Mrs. John White, as reported last week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Frazer, Farrell Rd., celebrated her birthday with a dinner at the Blue Willow Tea Room, Saturday evening, Oct. 28. Guests were their son, David, their daughter, Mrs. Bernice Smith, and her daughter, Flossie. Monday was the Frazers' wedding anniversary, making a double celebration.

Charles Krapf Estate Is Valued At $149,900

Charles Krapf, a Green Garden township farmer and real estate man, left an estate of $142,900, according to the will which was filed this week with Probate Clerk E.B. Workman at the Will county courthouse.

Of the $142,900, $100,800 is in real estate and $42,100 is in personal property. Mr. Krapf died Oct. 1. The hearing on the petition to admit the will to probate was set for Dec. 12 by Probate Judge Stewart C. Hutchison.

The will stipulates that two trust funds are to be established. One is to consist of the farm property in Green Garden township. A son, Wayne of Route 1, Monee, and Mr. Krapf's widow, Mary, Route 1, Monee, are named trustees.

The fund is to be used for the benefit of the widow. She is to be allowed to remain in the farm house rent-free, according to the will.

It further stipulates that on her death, the property is to be sold with payments of $10,000 scheduled to be made to each of five children, Floyd of Monee, former county treasurer and now in business in Peotone; Roy of Peotone; Mrs. Violet Cadorette of 1619 Ivy Pl., Joliet; Mrs. Lorraine Henely of Wonder Lake and Wayne of Monee. The remainder is left to Charles Patton of Monee, a grandson who farmed with him and to a daughter, Mrs. Bernice Peplow, Route 3, Joliet.

The second trust is to be set up with the 67 acres of farm land in Green Garden township. This, too, is to go to the widow and upon her death will go to the three sons, Wayne, Floyd and Roy. The land in the first trust is to be rented to the grandson on the usual share-crop basis, the will directs. The grandson and Mrs. Peplow also receive his stock in the Andres Wilton Grain Co. The farm machinery is left to the executor with provisions that the grandson, Charles, be allowed to purchase it for $5,000.

If Mrs. Krapf decides not to remain in the farm home, she is to get $15,000 to permit her to purchase a house of her own selection. The remainder of the estate is left to the six children and the grandson. The 12 page will, executed on April 14, 1960, names Wayne and Mrs. Krapf as co-executors. To each of 13 grandchildren, Mr. Krapf left a $1,000 bequest. To a granddaughter, Beverly

The post office at Orland Park will be closed thruout the day, it was announced. The lobby at the Mokena office will be open from 8 to 11 a.m., so persons with boxes can get their mail then. Reunions Of Civil War Veterans Were Community Highlights

BY JOHN W. ALLEN
SO. ILL. UNIVERSITY

Not many people can remember back to the reunions held by Civil War veterans around 1900, but those who do will recall some interesting small details. For example, there were the bronze lapel buttons that had been given to each honorably discharged veteran and were worn proudly. This small button might be called the ancestor of the Victory, Good Conduct, and of the many other medals and campaign bars issued to those serving in later wars.

There also will be memories of old men proudly wearing tattered and moth-eaten remnants of the uniforms brought home at the end of the conflict. One man might have a peculiar cap with a front-slanting top and wide, shiny visor. Another perhaps would wear a cavalry-man's hat. A third would have on an old blue jacket with its row of freshly shined brass buttons, one or two of which might be missing. Whatever the bit of dress might be, it was worn in simple pride.

A boy with no money to spend at the stands and shows—which did their best to spoil the spirit of the day—would come to stand beside a group of veterans and listen in awe while the men recounted the incidents of their service days. In that way he heard stories of Grierson's Cavalry raid and of Hood's fierce charges at Atlanta. Lookout Mountain was stormed again and the siege lines moved in to strangle and capture Vicksburg.

Their stories were filled with the cold, the snows and rains, the mud of winter, the dust and heat of summer. They told of comrades, often their boyhood friends and messmates, who perished. They seemed to derive a sad pleasure from relating their unrecorded stories. Any boy who stood respectfully by and listened came away with an enduring interest in Civil War history and a sober respect for the men who bore the brunt of it.

At many of these reunions, campfires of earlier evenings were rekindled. In cooking pots and smoke-blackened tins, men brewed their black coffee just as they had done 40 years before. This they drank from tin cups, as near the "boiling point" as they could. One old man is recalled who brought a tin preserve can with a wire ball and said it was the one he brought home at the end of the war.
